

Watchtower, Dangerous Toy

Music: Jarsombec, Keyser

Lyrics: Jarsombec

Can a device read your mind?

To be accused of misinformation

Is the subject clean, and machine

Guilty of distorted imagination?

A psychological change

Assumes relation to the act of deceit

Not legally accepted

Human judgement is considered

A pleading man Resists malicious observation

The electric chair misinterprets lies detected

A voluntarily accepted examination

His freedoms, rights, and privacy neglected

Could a dangerous toy be infallible?

An assembly in a state of suspense

Why should we account for its mistakes

And suffer the consequence?

A question of Control

Will produce the fear of anxiety

Further abuse of security

We ignore implications for a free society

The slightest glitch proves fatal - if swallowed

Calculated emotions and expressions

Claims of accuracy diminish

Inconclusive evidence left to its discretion
