

Waterdeep, You will always hurt

First there was the dawn and i couldn't sing a song to you then there came the rain but i couldn't seem to blame you Sometimes it rains
sometimes it snows on you sometimes it sleets
sometimes it defeats you It's quiet on dark nights and you must give up the fight before long trust is not a game that naive stupid people play in youth
sometimes it floods you sometimes you bleed sometimes you just need to make it through make it through
You will always hurt
you will always sting
you're my badlands
my grand canyon
my empty stream
you're my reservation
my second place consolation my devastation
a thorn
a pang
a deep dark heartache
my greatest fear
a lonely tear
hopelessness
an empty caress
an earthquake
a broken plate
lost innocence
a cheap defense
my delusion
my confusion
a cancer
a wrong answer
a lost game
fickle as fame
a bad critique
a glass that leaks
a fallen leaf
talk too shallow
ground that's fallow
fatal attraction
nuclear reaction
false resurrection
thrown election
you're my silence
my violence
you're a sad song
you're a long, you're a long, you're a long way from home you're a long, long, long, long way from home you
cause you won't let go of everything until you're quiet one dark night and you give up the fight you've fought so long and find that trust is not a game
and you let it rain

you let it flood
you let it drive out all the pain of love
