

Waterdown, June

i'm just like anybody else so let's start this once again if i thought this to an end it meant that nothing was ever meant i meant that you have never been my friend how can you dance when my legs are bleeding how can you whisper when i feel like screaming this is the perfect tragedy sugar coated madness dear and if you never realize me it doesn't matter anyway i tried my revelation now and you'll try your one then yes you really had your chance to win something right here crashed girl goodbye baby bye-bye don't want you don't need you don't ever want you back
