

Waterdown, Nails All Broken Short

cant you just drive me home tonight?
my hands are shaking the lights from the oncoming cars will blind me when all i only want is to stare at my feet my shoes are scuffed the bottom of my pants torn if i have to drive i might take my eyes off the road i might look at you
my hands are shaking
cant you just drive me home tonight?
i can put on a tape we can get lost in the words of steven andrew miller we wont have to speak to each other i dont know what i would do if i heard your voice
my hands are shaking
the nails all broken short they feel cold cant you just drive me home?
