

Watermark, Constant

You alone are wise
You alone are all consuming fire
And I want to press in to know
This God that so amazes me

You alone are good
You alone are the only good in me
And because of the work of the cross
You're pursued my life and You've loved me completely

You go after every heart
You won't rest until we know
You are constant, You are constant
You Go after every heart
And Your glory is in all the earth
But Your heart is for a people who will constantly be running after You

You alone are life
You alone are the only life I breathe
And because of Your unfailing love
My life will be spent to know you completely

You go after every heart
You won't rest until we know
You are constant, You are constant
You Go after every heart
And Your glory is in all the earth
But Your heart is for a people who
will constantly be running after You

If I ever find my life, then I've lost it
For there is nothing more to life Than to lose myself while I'm running, running, running
Running after You

You go after every heart
You won't rest until we know
You are constant, You are constant
You Go after every heart
And Your glory is in all the earth
But Your heart is for a people who
