

Waylon Jennings, Don't Waste Your Time

(Marty Taylor)

(Don't look for me I must go.)
(Don't waste your time I must go.)

Don't look for me, don't waste your time
I'll find another that's more my kind
I'll find my happiness on further down the line
Don't look for me, don't waste your time.
(I must go, I must go.)

It's over now, I must be on my way
There's nothing here for me so I can't stay
You tried to be what I wanted you to be
It's over now, you're not the one for me.

Don't look for me, don't waste your time
I'll find another that's more my kind
I'll find my happiness on further down the line
Don't look for me, don't waste your time.
(I must go, I must go.)

Love me once more and then forget my name
For when I go I won't be back again
The sun will set, I'll stay with you till dawn
Then I must go, I linger much too long.

Don't look for me, don't waste your time
I'll find another that's more my kind
I'll find my happiness on further down the line
Don't look for me, don't waste your time.
(I must go, I must go.)

Don't look for me, don't waste your time
I'll find another that's more my kind
I'll find my happiness on further down the line
Don't look for me, don't waste your time.
(I must go, I must go.)..
