Waylon Jennings, Gentle On My Mind

It's knowing that your door is always open and your path is free to walk

That makes me tend to leave my sleeping bag rolled up and stashed behind your couch

And it's knowing I'm not shacked by forgotten words and bons

And the ink stains that have dried upon some line

That keeps you in the back roads by the rivers of my mem'ry

Keeps you ever gentle on my mind

It's not clinging to the rocks and I'd be planted on their columns now that binds me Or something that somebody said because they thought we fit together walkin'

It's just knowing that the world will not be cursin' or forgivin'

When I walk along some railroad track and find

That you're movin' on the back roads by the rivers of my mem'ry

And for hours you're just gentle on my mind

Though the wheet fields and the clothes lines

And the junk yards and the highways come between us

And some other woman 's cryin' to her mother cause she turned and I was gone

I still might run in silence tears of joy might stain my face

And the summer sun might burn me till I'm blind

But not to where I cannot see you walking on the back roads

By the rivers flowing gentle on my mind

I dipped my cup of soap back from a gurglin' cracklin' caltron in some train yard

My beard a roughen coal pile and a dirty hat pulled low across my face

Through cupped hands round a tin can I pretend to hold you to my breast and find

That you're waving from the back roads by the rivers of my mem'ry

Ever you're just gentle on my mind
