

Waylon Jennings, Your Love Lingers On

YOUR LOVE LINGERS ON
WRITERS WAYLON JENNINGS, RORY LEE
RECORDED BY JOHN MICHAEL MONTGOMERY

Long after your touch has faded from my body
And the scent of your sweet perfume is gone
Long after your kiss has faded from my lips
Your love lingers on
It's still in the air, it's everywhere
It never disappears
It's surrounding me, like a melody
Reminding me you were here
Long after the glow has faded from the moonlight
And the stars have given way to greet the dawn
Long after the night has faded to sunlight
Your love lingers on
It's still in the air, it's everywhere
It never disappears
It's surrounding me, like a melody
Reminding me you were here
Long after your whisper has faded from my ears
And the curtains are no longer drawn
Long after the passion fades into memories
Your love lingers on
It's still in the air, it's everywhere
It never disappears
It's surrounding me, like a melody
Reminding me you were here
Your love lingers on
Your love lingers on
