

We're About 9, Suburbia

you know they really should put a stop sign here people fly around this corner with nothing to fear, you know I see it everyday but I'm safe up here, this is where I'll stay a silent alarm in this convenience store doesn't seem to do much for that poor clerk you know he's such an easy target but I'm safe out here, this is where I'll stay

I've seen a ten car pile up I've seen fistfights, gunfights, more still I see know need to leave my space outside the door I'm watching America I'm watching America

no I can't remember when I gave it up school, family, religion, I didn't know where to stop but I've got friends out here this is all I need we're doing just fine

you know the city's overrated there's nothing there for us I've seen it on TV. those people all live in the past they're all white-bred republicans making rules no one follows cheating on their wives beating down on lower class we're happy in suburbia

suburbs are built for people like us the young guys who know there's nobody to trust I'm safe out here, this is all I need this is where I'll stay

I've seen a ten car pile up
still I see know need to leave my space
I'm watching America
