

We Shot The Moon, On Your Way

And I was so alone
Then I saw you
Across the room
Taking in the sound of what was surrounding you

You looked around
At a lonely crowd
Trying everything to drown it out

I'm still unsure how you've done this, but here you are
And you're on your way into my heart
If you don't start slowing down
I saw it coming from the start
But I wondered
You're on your way now.

And I could not believe
When you looked at me
It's like you knew
That we'd have everything we'd need to see this through
And I couldn't find
A place to hide
So I just stared right back into your eyes

I'm still unsure how you've done this
But here you are.
You're on your way into my heart
If you don't start slowing down
I saw it coming from the start
But I wondered
Just how would it be if you hadn't believed in me.
You're on your way now.

And these are the days that we'll remember
And these are the days that we'll remember
And these are the days that we'll remember

And these are the days that we'll remember
And these are the days that we'll remember
And these are the days that we'll remember

You're on your way into my heart
If you don't start slowing down
I saw it coming from the start
But I wondered
Just how would it be if you hadn't believed in me.
You're on your way now
