We The Living, History

Mark constellations on your skin And I will sail by them at night And carefully I'll map your shores And know you better than any man before I'll sail into the great unknown And awake by you at dawn

Tell me stories all your own
And know me better than any man before
I'll take you down I still believe
I'll take you down in history
Sometimes doubt can toss your seas
A fear that I will not withstand,
I'll hang on every word you please
And know you better than any man before

I'll take you down I still believe I'll take you down In history In history In history In history

Sometimes doubt can toss your seas A fear that I will not withstand I'll hang on every word you please And know you better than any man before

I'll take you down I still believe I'll take you down In history In history In history In history

I'll take you down I still believe I'll take you down In history In history

I'll take you down
On angry seas
I'll take you down
In history
In history
In history
I'll take you down, down, down
I'll take you down, down, down
In history
In history
In history
