

Webb Pierce, You Make Me Live Again (1959)

I once lost my heart and I swere that we parted that I'd never lose it again
She made me so blue with a love so untrue a love I had no chance to win
Then you came along now my heart sings a song it haven't been singing since then
You're all that I think of you be my true love you make me live again
( fiddle - steel )

If I haven't told you that each time I hold you my heart goes into a spin
I want you so bad it's driving me mad cause you make me live again
You make my life lighter and as I hold you tighter I hope this is one heart I win
You're all that I think of you be my true love you make me live again
