

Weeping Willows, Under Suspicion

Baby, I am truly sorry
I walked out on you tonight
Now I'm worried
I want everything to be alright
I'm writing you this letter
Watching the rain outside
Hoping for the better
But we always seem to collide
I'm under suspicion
A ghost in your vision
I get nightmares during day
It's the price that I pay
I'm under suspicion
Impossible mission
You make me run away
Why do you treat me this way?
I couldn't get through to you
I screamed cause we couldn't speak
I didn't know what to do
All that hardness made me weak
You have no faith in me
And you thought you had a clue
You're afraid of what might be
But I promise I promise I've always have no faith in me
And you thought you had a clue
You're afraid of what might be
But I promise I've always been true
You can't go on
You do me wrong
You'll find you good man gone
I'm under suspicion
A ghost in your vision
I get nightmares during day
Why do you treat me this way?
I'm under suspicion...
