

Weezer, 367

Now that i love you so much and it right there for all to see why dont you let me hold you and dream of the things that should not me huha huha
And so, didnt meant hurt you cant stand the way, it hurts cause i never be worth quite what your worth

I studied the words you wrote down and picked them apart to check your style as i was doing all this you never forget to hide your smile
huha huha
I wonder if my heart will fade or if this is the one cuz i dont think i'll find a better one

it all comes crashing down when my secret flies
back to loneliness

wonder if my heart will fade
or if this is the one

and its right there for all to see
and dream of the things that should not be

and dream of the things that should not be
