Westlife, Home (2007)

Home

Shane: Hey...

What's your name?
Do you live around here?
Don't I know your face?
You say, "I've been a stranger
For too long"
I didn't even notice I was gone
And I wanna come back home

All (Shane in lead):

Show me the way to make a start
Show me the road back to your heart
And I've learned the only truth that I need to know
There's a million places I can go
But without you it ain't home
It ain't home

Bryan:

Pléase say...

What I need to hear you say

Say, "I'm thoughtless and foolish"

But say, "it's not too late"

Now I don't know exactly

Where we go from here

But trying is the only way to know

And I wanna come back home

All (Shane in lead):

Show me the way to make a start
Show me the road back to your heart
And I've learned the only truth that I need to know
There's a million places I can go
But without you it ain't

Bryan:

It ain't always
Please believe me
Don't give up
Cos we're half way there
We're at the crossroads
In the middle
Between home
And between us there
All I need is
Some direction
Let me know you're here for me
Where you are

All (Shane in lead):

Is where I'll be

Show me the way to make a start, oh Show me the road back to your heart And I've learned the only truth that I need to know There's a million places I can go But without you it ain't

Show me the way to make a start
Show me the road back to your heart
And I've learned the only truth that I need to know
There's a million places I can go
But without you it ain't home

Shane: It ain't home