

Westworld, Uneasy

Holding my own, but sometimes
I think I might break
Fragile in one breath
Then I'm strong and brave

Still, like a dark chameleon
Covered with time
Wearing it well
Though sometimes hard to find

Blowing a storm through my world
You change the way I feel
Alter the light when you appear

I don't know why you make me so uneasy (so uneasy)
When you're next to me
Can it be you're the only one who can see me? (so uneasy)
But I'll come around, just give me time

Been on my own since I was Born don't you know
People have come and gone,
Mostly they go

So will you be here when I'm down
Or leave to chase the sun
I really do want to believe

I don't know why you make me so uneasy (so uneasy)
When you're next to me
Can it be you're the only one who can see me? (so uneasy)
But I'll come around, just give me time

Blowin a storm through my world
You change the way I feel
Alter the light when you appear
feed the atmosphere
Leave the night unclear
