

Wet Leg, Too Late Now

If I thought that you were cool
We would have hung out more in school
But now that we have all grown up
Well, all my friends have given up
No, there's nothing left to say
I just get up and walk away
If it ain't broke, don't try to fix
Well, life's supposed to be this shit
Now everything is going wrong
I think I changed my mind again
I'm not sure if this is a song
I don't even know what I'm saying
Everything is going wrong
I think I changed my mind again
I'm not sure if this is the kinda life
That I saw myself living
I don't need no dating app
To tell me if I look like crap
To tell me if I'm thin or fat
To tell me should I shave my rat
I don't need no radio
No MTV, no BBC
I just need a bubble bath
To set me on a higher path
I'm gonna drive my car into the sea
I'm gonna drive downtown while looking pretty ordinary
Too late now, lost track somehow
I'm like, oh my God, this world is pretty harrowing
Down we go while holding hands
If I fuck this up, I'm taking you down with me
Too late now, lost track somehow
Well if I fuck this up, I'm taking you down with me
I'm gonna drive my car into the sea
I'm gonna drive downtown while looking pretty ordinary
Too late now, lost track somehow
I'm like, oh my god, this world is pretty harrowing
Now everything is going wrong
I think I changed my mind again
I'm not sure if this is a song
I don't even know what I'm saying
Everything is going wrong
I think I changed my mind again
I just need a bubble bath
To set me on a higher path
