

Wet Wet Wet, Don't want to forgive me now

She's gonna leave me on my own again
I guess it happens every now and then
She closes her eyes and says goodnight
God only knows the reason why
We get together and we fall apart again
Don't want to forgive me now
You want to forget it
But I know I'll be happy in your heart
She spends her time so easy
She casts the spell then leaves me
She's on the make, she's out of touch
My heart she breaks, much, too much
When we're together we fall apart again
Don't want to forgive me now
You want to forget it
But I know I'll be happy in your heart
In the warmth of a winter morning
The thorn and the kiss
The rose in a withered garden
Then true love lies like this
She makes it look so easy
Her sugar smile deceives me
She closes her eyes and says goodnight
God only knows the reason why
We get together and we fall apart again
Don't want to forgive me now
You want to forget it
But I know I'll be happy in your heart
I hope that you're happy now
You can forgive me
I know I'll be happy in your heart
