

Wet Wet Wet, Wouldn't Have Made Any Difference

Have you ever been in love
Have you ever been in love

Do you remember the last time I said
If I ever thought of lying,
I'd rather think of dying instead
And maybe you remember the last time you called me to say we were through How it took a million tears just to prove they all were for you But those days are through

'Cause it wouldn't have made any difference,
if you loved me
And how could you love me
Well it wouldn't really make any difference,
if you really loved me
You just didn't love me

'Cause I know of hundreds of times I could be In the most unfaithful arms that you always picture me
And maybe you remember
Oh I can't always prove I was so true No one else could change my mind or stop me coming home to you Cos those days are through

'Cause it wouldn't have made any difference,
if you loved me
And how could you love me
Well it wouldn't really make any difference,
if you really loved me

Enough to believe me, enough to believe me Enough not to leave me, yeah, enough not to leave me Enough not to look for a reason to be unhappy with me
And make me regret ever wanting you
But those days are through

if you loved me
And how could you love me
Well it really wouldn't make any difference,
if you really loved me
But those days are though

'Cause it wouldn't have made any difference,
if you loved me
And maybe you love me
Well it really wouldn't make any difference,
if you really loved me
But those days are though
Well it really wouldn't
