

Weta, Missed Again (Joy's Song)

I'm making a change today
'Cause I can see until I get it over myself
A sucker for anything
Kiss and tell but never let it out of the bank (?)
And I can tell
That you

I sit here all by myself
Wondering I'll never let it out again
Safely under my skin
Sleep and wake
It must be that time of day
And I can tell
That you

I missed again
You missed again
You missed again you lucky man

I'll never give it away 'cause
I can't be the one to ever take the blame
I looked in your eyes today and
I can see that you're looking for a better way
And I can tell
That you

You missed again
You missed again
You missed again you lucky man

You missed again
You missed again
You missed again
You missed again you lucky man

You missed again
You missed again
You missed again
You missed again you lucky man

You missed again
You missed again
You missed again
You missed again you lucky man

You missed again
You missed again
You missed again
You missed again you lucky man
