

Wheat, No One Ever Told Me

no one ever taught me how to watch a television
like a baby i knew my candy no one ever caught me when i learned to ride a bicycle
and like the pavement embraced my skin
no one ever warned me
about that television
now i'm brain-dead at twenty seven
no one ever mended my lumps and bruises
and now it's hard to breath
with a broken nose
