

Wheatus, This Island

I met the King of England once but the guys in the deli back home they don't believe me.
I ride my bike all around round my home town where nobody knows me.

And I think that the problem is mine they I should take And take a more positive line on the situation when solutions are staring me right in the Face it we've run out of time
But if you do what I say everything will be fine
Well

No thanks I'd rather sit here and die on this island
Can't you see I need this to end and be dead.
No thanks I'd rather sit here and die on this island
Can't you see I need this to end and be dead.

I had a dream about a song. It was so strong.
It made all the rights wrong
I tried to write it all down. Capture the sound.
You won't believe what I found.

But the good turned to bad, sad and mad when I played it it sounded like more like a fad that had lasted a little too long than it had and I realized that this was as good as it got.
There's no snowballs in hell cause it's too fuckin hot so

No thanks I'd rather sit here and die on this island
Can't you see I need this to end and be dead.
No thanks I'd rather sit here and die on this island
Can't you see I need this to end and be dead.

Yeah I thought that I knew who I was what did I know off nothing or all the above I did I mention those hip new ideas I got from you last week they sucked all the life out of life in a heartbeat and ripped mine right out of my chest aand the kids saw right through but you already knew that wa you tried it the 1st time in 1989 when you were the one in my shoes and some asshole like you told you what you should do when you do what you do and you had to do it like he wanted you to have you learned how to live with regret yet

I can't keep these these things in my head
If I turn out like you I will wish I was dead
