

Whiskeytown, All You Can Feel

I turn the TV

□

Through your window I'll take god's leap

That avenue understands everything

Nothing can stop you now

No one can stop you now

Through your window I'll take god's leap

That avenue understands everything

Nothing can stop you now

No one can stop you now

It's all you can feel

It's all you can feel

It's all you can feel

It's all you can feel

It's all you can feel

□

On your knees, derailed from some years

Picture me, across from your eyes

Farther out of million cities

Filtering obsession

No one can stop you now

Nothing can stop you now

It's all you can feel

It's all you can feel

It's all you can feel

It's all you can feel

Feel

It's all you can feel

It's all you can feel

It's all you can feel

It's all you can feel

It's all you can feel

It's all you can feel

It's all you can feel
