

White Kaps, Won't Speak

won't speak, for another man won't say his words are mine little white lies get confused and it just takes too much time say i do, say i don't maybe i will, or maybe i won't i won't speak, i won't speak for another man my opinion is my own, won't speak for another man no claim to fame just leave me alone, another man say what you want, what you will love and live or hate and kill i won't speak, won't speak for another man no words, put on your tongue like food to the mouth of a child ideas grow inside your head anger makes you wild open your mouth it's by yourself don't even speak for me everybody has a view some too blind to see
