

Why Store, Manic Man

I've been abused
And I've been confused
And I've been evil
More than any man can say
I've been abused
And I've been confused
And I've been evil
More than any man can say
And now every man can say
I'm the leader
Fighting for his fairy tale
Manic Man
Don't forget your lines
The poet mourning his epitaph
Another member to this useless lie
Go on, you're forgotten
Go on with your pale blue eyes
Go on, it's forgotten
I've been abused
And I've been confused
And I've been evil
More than any man can say
And now every man can say
I've been abused
And I've been confused
And I've been evil
More than any man can say
I've been abused
And I've been confused
And I've been evil
More than any man can say
And now every man can say
I'm the leader
Fighting for his fairy tale
Manic Man
Don't forget your lines
The poet mourning his epitaph
Another member to this useless lie
Go on, you're forgotten
Go on with your pale blue eyes
Go on, it's forgotten
