Why Store, Who Is Your Love?

Down the way
There's a street
Where everything is a melody
And down the way
There's a place

Where you can be what you want to be

The walls of Hades The gates of heaven

Start to melt away

A baby's crying

But you can't hear

A single word he says

All it takes is love, babe

All it takes is your love

All it takes is love, babe

All it takes is your love

Who is your love?

Who is your love?

Who is your love?

Like before me

There will be another one

Like before me

There will be another one

For all to witness

We will walk on common ground

For all to witness

We will walk on common ground

Who is your love?

All it takes is love, babe

All it takes is your love
