

Wide Mouth Mason, Always Never Only

Always

Never

Only

If you say these words we're through

'Cause I can't stand being lied to

By someone I trust like you

She said, "Things are gonna go
The way that they're supposed to go."
But I say, "No, things are gonna go
They're only gonna go."

She said, "Things are gonna go
The way that they're supposed to go."
But I say, "No, things are gonna go
They're only gonna go."

Change unchanging I can't stop it
Moving like it move
I'm no stranger to your answer
It came and it went it's through

Shrinking in the eyes of all that you would leave to fate
And sliding down the slippery slope by leaving things to late
By leaving things too late

She said, "Things are gonna go
The way that they're supposed to go."
But I say, "No, things are gonna go
They're only gonna go."

I can't be with someone whose idea of a parade
Is to walk through a room and stare at every shiny thing
And searches her reflection out in windows on the street
And tries to find her face in my eyes when she's looking at me

She said, "Things are gonna go
The way that they're supposed to go."
But I say, "No, things are gonna go
They're only gonna go."
