

Wide Mouth Mason, Ease Your Mind

You came
You're here
You're making up all that you fear
The reason it's dark
Is you closed your eyes
You're imagining
But you don't realize it

Your own arms
Around you
You're back just the way that I found you
You don't have to guess
What I think anymore
I'll make it easy
I'll find the door

I hope this reaches you in time

It's just like you said
We're born, then undone and then dead
So what'cha gonna do
The rest of your days
Find some order in the disarray

I hope this reaches you in time
And I hope this eases your mind

Baby, I know
This has to be
No, not for you, but for me
So that I know
I was the only one
Who gave you space to breathe

And I hope this reaches you in time
And I hope this eases your mind
Yes
And I hope this reaches you in time
And I hope this eases your mind

Maybe if you think
I give you all the space to breathe for you and me, baby
I won't have to deal with you anymore
Said I
Said I
Lord, lord
