Wide Mouth Mason, It's So Bad

I promised no asterisk
But I think I probably lied
And if you would by accident come here tonight
I could show you why
I've been through it all
No room in these walls to forget what I want to remember again
And it always gets worse at night
Ah really come on where did you go?
I wanna go home, didn't you know I need you?
Figure it out, where did you go falling apart
Didn't you know I need you?

Tonight it's so bad
It's so bad tonight
