Wilburn Brothers, Fool Me One More Time

Fool me one more time and say you love me
More than once you've promised you'd be true
More than many times I've let you lie to me again
Fool me one more time I'll believe you
I'll gladly take you back to make me happy
The truest loyal fool you've ever known
Fool me one more time and say you'll always be true
Fool me one more time for I still love you
(steel)
Each time you leave my world is cold and empty
Dark clouds keep the sun from shining through
And even though you've hurt me oh so many times before
Fool me one more time I'll forgive you
I'll gladly take you back...
