Wilburn Brothers, I Wonder Why You Said Goodb

Your letter came this very day and it wiped all my dreams away I've read it o'er a thousand times it's left me with a worried mind I wonder why you said goodbye and did you mean to make me cry I guess until the day I die that I will still be wondering why (steel)

I hope and pray before my time that you'll come back and say you're mine Bring back the love you took away and mend the heart you broke today I wonder why you said goodbye...
