

Wilburn Brothers, No One Knows Better Than Me

I know the way you're feeling I know how it can be no one knows better than me
I cried the night you left me I laid awake till dawn
Just staring in the darkness and wondering where you'd gone
Now you're alone and you know how bad the hurt can be no one knows better than me
I know the way you're feeling I know how it can be no one knows better than me
( piano - steel )
Through all these days of longing I'm still in love with you
I understand completely the heartaches you've been through
I've done myself cryin' I know how it can be no one knows better than me
I know the way you're feeling I know how it can be no one knows better than me
