

Wilburn Brothers, Won't Stand In Your Way

You say that you and I are parting you say our love has come astray
You know that you are only leaving but I won't stand in your way
So go and leave me now my darling don't mind the tears that I display
My love for you will always linger but I won't stand in your way
(piano)

Perhaps you'll change your mind tomorrow perhaps it's all a lonesome dreams
I'll wait and find you still beside me as faithful as sunlight beams
So go and leave me now...
