

Wilburn Brothers, World Of Forgotten People

I live in the world world of forgotten people
Who've loved and lost their hearts so many times
I'm here in the world world of forgotten people
Where every heart is aching just like mine

Well I've loved and I've been loved but I had the reckless heart
And the many dreams I've had I torn apart
Now I find that I was wrong too late I'm all alone alone in a world of broken heart
I live in the world...

(steel)

I'm here in the world world of forgotten people
Where every heart is aching just like mine