Wildpath, Ipsylos

Ever dream of a sunbeam, ever wish to go away Now I'll try to reach the sky, just want to find my way I was told, in the mountain highs, There's a place where we can touch the sky Want to fly with angels, want to taste this real life

On the green hills of Ipsylos we'll find paradise No pain, no suffer, a land kissed by light

Led by a sunray, I'll find my own heaven Let the freedom guide me to my new home Follow the dream flight, and soar out of this world And here together we will live forever Fading to my dreams, the world seems so real...

Ahead of me, just in my path, I have just to change my sight Find the world of my thoughts, step in paradise Forgotten of everyone, Ipsylos, my fairyland Oh, please catch me in your hills and fill my heart with bliss

On the green hills of Ipsylos we'll find paradise No pain, no suffering, a land kissed by light

Led by a sunray, I'll find my own heaven Let the freedom guide me to my new home Follow the dream flight, and soar out of this world And here together we will live forever Fading to my dreams, the world seems so real...

On the green hills of Ipsylos we'll find paradise No pain, no suffering, a land kissed by light

Led by a sunray, I'll find my own heaven Let the freedom guide me to my new home Follow the dream flight, and soar out of this world And here together we will live forever Fading to my dreams, the world seems so real...
