

Will Oldham, The Southside Of The World

where were the rapist when I was a child ?
they were my neighbors, that's why I'm so wild where were the drunkards that shot with teir guns ?
and closed the shops early so we could have fun ?
where were the women who spread the disease who spread love so freely ans so spread their knees they went to the southside to make their own laws away from the knawing of innocent laws lord they went to the southside and we must go too if we want our freedom it's what we must do if we want happy families it's what we must do give me donkey ears !

give me honkey tears !
give me black blood !
and that of queers !
to mix with my own

come with me to the southside where we'll make our home
come with me to the southside where we'll make our home
