

Will Wakefield, The Rebirth

It was one more night in boston
It was only one more night
As soon as I came home
Everything could have been alright

I believe in you baby,
And I tried to believe in us
A leap of faith is so damn hard
But in you I trust

And when I saw you cross the room
Your face was burning red
What would I like darling?
I'd like to be the only lover in your bed

But I'm stumbling through my words
And I'm falling down the stairs
And I'll prostrate my self at your feet
I said I'm sorry, baby don't you care?

And no matter how alone I am
I could never be your man again
No matter how alone I am
Damn't I only want to be your man

Oh babe I have regrets
I regret that we ever met
I never meant to make you sad
But don't regret what love we had

Oh babe I can't sleep anymore
I stare at the ceiling every night
Please don't give up on me
Don't give up babe without a fight

And all my misconceptions have transformed into my fears
Oh my love I want you here
Babe we don't have to dissappear

All I wanted was you!
All I wanted was you!
All I wanted was you!
All I wanted was you!

All I wanted was you!
(One More Night!)
All I wanted was you!
(One More Night!)

All I wanted was you!
(One More Night In Boston...)

I wanted you...
