

William Fitzsimmons, Just Not Each Other

Walked back home from this disaster
Saw your ghost under the plaster
Hearts in throat and broken to pieces
Im coming home

Lost my way and gave up my treasure
Hid my heart and lost you forever
Theres flesh in you that wont know her father
I cant come home

Loved you first when we were children
You broke my heart but all thats forgiven
We lost our chance to love one another
Well love again just not each other
