

Windsor Drive, My One Request

Its so interesting to see how you.
React to words that are untrue.
The words that have the deepest touch.
The words you never learned to trust.
You acted like you never felt them
You never really seemed to care.
You led me on with the look in your eyes.
And the words that you said to me tonight.

I can't hold back.
From love so real.
I break my neck.
To let you feel.
I try so hard.
You'll never know.
This is my one request to you.

Will you take back what you said to me?
Because as far as I know I cant see.
Im blinded my intuition.
And thoughts that make me superstitious.
I really hope I see you next week.
I miss you so much I feel so weak.
So hold me close and kiss me goodnight,
I will turn my back one last time.

I can't hold back.
From love so real.
I break my neck.
To let you feel.
I try so hard.
You'll never know.
This is my one request to you.

Im so lost in your eyes, I cannot feel my face.
Our last kiss was so sweet its all I can taste.

Cant stop myself from doing it again.
I thought last time would be the end.
But you took me out of my despair.
And showed me that you really care.
You told me that you love what we have.
You told me that you never had it.
Its safe to say that we are in love.
And your the one Im dreaming of.

I can't hold back.
From love so real.
I break my neck.
To let you feel.
I try so hard.
You'll never know.
This is my one request to you
