

Wintersun, Beyond The Dark Sun

For years I have travelled in coldness
But my heart is warm as the darkened sun above me

Nothing can ever take away
What I've seen with these tired eyes
Face of the weeping night
And the shade of the fading light

Face of the weeping night

The dawn will never rise again for my eyes
And I will never sleep again
I've lost my hope time after time
Cause the light has vanished from the sky

Now when the darkness has become part of me
I got to let my shadow free
Cause I never looked behind, I never tried to find
Something that could have made me one
Now when the sorrow has taken control of me
I got to let my shadow free
Cause I never looked behind, I never tried to find
Something that could have made me one
Something that I could reach the Sun
