

Wired All Wrong, 15 Minutes

Come on up and kiss me, come on up and kiss me
(sweet little cinnamon, little cinnamon)
Come on up and kiss me and tell me that you miss me
(sweet little cinnamon, little cinnamon) it's plain as day

I can see it in your face, your eyes, your lies
They scream, "This isn't who I am"
Lemme guess, you're the best actress the world has ever seen
Wasn't that your plan?
The things you do for money, my rentable honey
If it's all the same, here's your 15 minutes of fame
Here's your 15 minutes of fame

Come on propo-sish me, come on up and kiss me
I just want to get fresh and friendly
Don't give a fuck who you with, don't give a fuck if you nasty
Just come on climb in with me and do what you did last week
What more can I say
I can see it in your face, your eyes, your lies
They scream, "This isn't who I am"
I'll attest, you're the last big breasts the world will ever need
But you don't give a damn
The things you do for money, my rentable honey
If it's all the same, here's your 15 minutes of fame
(The things you do) Here's your 15 minutes of fame
(The things you do for money)

Little cinnamon's a little menacing
Little cinnamon's a little menacing
Little cinnamon's a little menacing
She's a little menacing, baby, what more can I say

I can see it in your face, your eyes, your lies
They scream, "This isn't who I am"
Lemme guess, you're the best actress the world has ever seen
Wasn't that your plan?
The things you do for money, my rentable honey
If it's all the same, here's your 15 minutes of fame
(The things you do for money)
Here's your 15 minutes of fame
(The things you do for money)
Here's your 15 minutes of fame
