

Wishbone Ash, Long Live The Life

I see she's crying
And I hear her calling
But I disregard her
Just keep on walking.
My heart is burning
She need to work it out
Before she leaves her innocence behind.
I want to be there by your side
I want to see the morning sun rise.
Don't want to be left alone in the dark.
Like a blind man
I can't find my way.
Strike a light up in your window
So that I can see right up to your door.
Long live the night we spent together
Long live the night forevermore.
Out in the streets
In the cold light of day
I've been reflecting on what she might say.
I felt a shiver
The devil passed me by.
He said nothing
My luck was running high.
