Hell - storms hard Rampant evil cloud the skies Creatures - sing As they praise the unborn child Famine and plaque Race thru out the world On wings of damnation There's a fire in the sky Behold the riders in the night With fear we whisper their names War and death - famine and plague Prophecies Forfilled with cold precision Seas of blood - predict mankinds extinction War and death Unleash the terror With divine intervention There's a fire in the sky Behold the riders in the night With fear we whisper their names War and death - famine and plague There's a fire in the sky Behold the riders in the night With fear we whisper their names War and death - famine and plague
