

With Broken Wings, Under Disguise

beautified they're hidden underneath a heavy disguise we idolize these fraudulent images and ignore all that was once considered original and we have discovered new ways to reduce the true value of what used to be we deprive ourselves of brilliance and instead gain simplicity we've discovered new ways to reduce...

eager minds now absorb worthless intellect as they are unknowingly being sucked into a world of vanity... all desire for originality has slowly deminished how can one live life mirroring all that is known all that is not know I am mirroring an agonizing suicide this is suicide