

With Honor, Bridges And Gaps

i can't believe what i see, it's so unreal the way you treat your friends, and the fire you breathe, the words you speak it's your disregard for life or maybe yourself... you have traded honesty for nothing at all maybe one day you'll understand why i can't agree, then you'll see through all the lives that you've been living in, fork tongues and knives won't get us anywhere... and we'll rise above but until then i'll cherish each opportunity i have to speak of hope, i'll be a foothold for truth i'll reach out,

i'll challenge,
i'll be here waiting to pick you up the current is strong, the water runs deep, it takes someone real to stand against the world's attack, and i will carry your burden until the day you wake morning's come, with them come choices, the time is now to choose...

WILL YOU BE WASHED AWAY I WILL NOT BE WASHED AWAY
i won't be washed away.
