Without A Cross, My Reality

I sit on the edge of reality
The only thing that comforts me
Why Im here I dont know why
Theres no one here by my side
Every time I look in the mirror
Theres a new face that I cannot fear
Why are you just troubling me
Get the fuck away from me

Fade away Drift away Get away Get away

Time it seems will hold whats real Nothing more than what I feel To this life I must be kind For its me Im so divine If I will and if I please No one more will rescue me Time was lost in what I know Nothing more so fuck the show

No one cares about me Set me free, set me free No one gives a fuck about me Set me free, set me free
