Wiz Khalifa, Cameras

Oh, it's hardly a secret

You ain't gon stop tryna get where you going until you reach it

Always had them bars back in the day

When the same ones running up on you wasn't speaking

Look at all your achievements

You work hard so it'd be kinda hard not to believe that

You party every weekend (weekend)

Fuck em all who act like they ain't see it then

All them nights on the plane

Losses a nigga took, had to charge it to the game

Always wanted stardom and the fame

Learn to out smart em

And now it ain't no stopping the champagne from poppin'

The draws from droppin'

Us seeing muscle cars and coppin' em

Started off just a little less popular

Now you got a new place

You drive a new car

You smile for the cameras, live life like a superstar

Don't care what they say

You reach for the stars

Got everything you always dreamed or thought about

And everyone knows who you are

Never gets boring

And haters in your face, you just ignore em

Don't know what they talking shit for

See niggas get theirs, you just tryna get yours

Therefore, you left all the people you care for

Hopped on a plane and got airborne

Seen the bullshit comin' and fell for it

But it's all good now

Cause the same ones that talk shit telling everyone you made it

Then you start seein' hoes you dated

And thoughts start getting jaded

Now your life's sort of different ain't it

Feel your scars knowin what your pain is

But what's it all worth if it's painless?

Say you wanna be famous

Now you got a new place

You drive a new car

You smile for the cameras, live life like a superstar

Don't care what they say

You reach for the stars

Got everything you always dreamed or thought about

And everyone knows who you are

Always knew I was this good

But never knew I'd be this good

Them niggas just starting, I've been doing it

Hear em talk but they ain't living my life

In the dark tryna get in my light

But chances I don't get em, dodge twice

Spendin' grands for hoes, this is the high life

And for the camera's posing this the high life

Bottles raising for my niggas not here

I pour out a couple sips

Blew em on the beach, I smoke for you on my trips

Them days I was younger I knew this life was the shit

But never like this

It's so amazing, we ain't gotta duck shots

We just pour and chase em

Ain't worry bout it, cause they gon hate Know where I'm going, look where I came from

Now you got a new place You drive a new car You smile for the cameras, live life like a superstar Don't care what they say You reach for the stars Got everything you always dreamed or thought about And everyone knows who you are
