

Wolftron, Happiness

Grace, don't ever be afraid.
Life has been heavy but don't lose your ways.
Take just take what you can.
You will never find all the pieces you gave away.

Don't look back, run from their teeth.
They don't understand the pain and the price you'll pay.
Watch the days filter your strength away until it's too late to see you happy again.

Grace, I watched her cry in her room when we were young.
Time never saved us from those days.
And I never found a reason to forget until I believed what you said.

Don't look back, run from their teeth.
They don't understand the pain and the price you'll pay.
Watch the days filter your strength away until it's too late to see you happy again.

I can't believe how you illuminate your beautiful face in the dark.
When the rest of the moonlight died without the sun,
But it'll always be fine.
Grace, I've tried so hard to do this on my own. But I'm nothing like you.
No, I'll never see life through without you.
Without you...

So don't look back, run from their teeth.
They don't understand the pain and the price you'll pay.
Watch the days filter your strength away until it's too late to see you happy again