

Wolftron, Provocations Of Starman Jr.

At the edge of where this love can grow,
I watched you pray for a better life.
And I, I can't understand everything you sing.
But I'm trying hard to be something for you.

I marked my skin with words I need last winter while you were asleep.
I don't understand everything I've seen,
But I'm trying hard to make sense of things.

Blue moon where are you today?
Blue moon we need you to stay.
Come show your face.

Oh, will we ever find?
Oh, what you call a better life.

Blue moon where are you today?
Blue moon we need you to stay
