

Wolftron, Uglybird

Shine like city lights, city lights burning bright learn, learn to love what you hate better now take your time when you come home no one's here, no one's here no one's here for you
no one waits for you pray, in Jesus' name when you lose all your ways and paint interstates on your skin all the veins i will do my best to find you there we could sing, we could sing any song we want cause no one waits, no one waits no one waits for us turn away, turn away, turn away from this place nothing here is worth fighting for look away, look away, keep your eyes from this place please don't give away your pretty face
